Description:

Fresh insights and practical guidelines peel away the mystery behind the elusive art of persuasion. There's really nothing mysterious about getting people to change their minds. No special, inborn gifts. No subliminal tricks. Instead, the best persuaders--advertisers, salespeople, politicians, spin doctors--depend on the fact that everyone responds to messages in just two ways: thoughtfully or mindlessly. And they know how to manipulate these two persuasion routes to make even the most doubtful say yes. Jam-packed with fascinating case studies and surprising examples, this comprehensive, entertaining how-to guide puts the powerful tool of persuasion at anyone's disposal. It explains: * How the master persuaders--the Churchills, Lincolns, and Roosevelts--create powerful, memorable messages that convince people of their arguments logic and rightness * How successful persuaders exploit the psychological triggers that cause people to subconsciously move from no to yes.

This book is written in an authoritative tone and has some incredible insight into how people in the last century were able to influence the masses. It brings up stories about Churchill, Roosevelt, the Clintons ect. Toward the last 50 pages it talks about more practical ways we can benefit in our own lives. The book is a great read and has lots of great insight. You can get some good tips about how to deal with your day to day life. Of course each of us has to decide which strategy works best for different situations. a book that I found very helpful and very practical is called How to outnegotiate anyone including a car dealer. Artful persuasion is a great starter and there are other books out there no doubt that can add to your effectiveness and help you apply the techniques to your day to day life. ENJOY!
